READ THE FOLLOWING CAREFULLY.

---

The prices offered in this book, are average rates for the condition in which the coins are usually found. Fine specimens command a higher price, and poor ones a lower price. Premiums on coins are determined by their condition and rarity.

Coins are not valued for their age, as Greek and Roman coins 2000 years old can be purchased for 25c. each. It is the scarcity that determines the premium.

Do not clean a coin, as it will bring more in the condition it is found, even if it is green or black.

If you think you have a valuable coin send pencil rubbing of it first. Place a piece of white paper over the coin and rub on it with flat end of a lead pencil.

The invention and use of coins is attributed to the Lydians, about 862 B. C., whose money was of gold and silver.

The dating of coins was first adopted, from about 1450.

Examine the list of coins I do not buy on pages 3.

A large stock of 100,000 coins for sale, constantly on hand. Write me what you want if you are a collector or dealer. Retail lists of Coins, Paper Money, Ancient Scarabs, etc., furnished free to prospective customers.

NUMISMATIC TERMS USED TO DEFINE THE VARIOUS PARTS OF A COIN.

The face or front of a coin is called the obverse, O, obv.

The back, or opposite side is called the reverse, R., rev.

The principal device or object represented on a coin is called the Type.

The area or space between the type and circumference, is called the Field.

The lower portion of the area of a coin beneath the type, and separated from the rest of the field by a horizontal line, is called the Exergue. Ex.

Small objects represented either in the field or the exergue as adjuncts to the main type, are called Symbols.

Portions of a coin, which are sunk below the level of the surface of a coin, are said to be incuse.

Untarnished coins, just as they come from the mint are called Uncirculated, unc.

Coins with mirror-like brightness are made on a specially prepared planchet and are called Proofs.

Coins struck from the original die, at some time subsequent to the first issue, are called Restrikes.

A die made one year, and used again by engraving one figure over another, and a coin struck therefrom is called Overstruck.
